NEVINS INTRODUCES OPUS

Houston, TX - January 21, 2013

Constantly offering new, state-of-the-art conferencing solutions, Nevins revealing their latest, introduces the Opus Conference Table.

Nevins created Opus to provide style, sophistication, and an aesthetically chic appearance for those conference rooms where hip, creative minds collaborate to construct innovative solutions. With integrated technology, unlimited surface materials, and the ability to customize, Opus has a unique place in conferencing when integrating panache and utility.

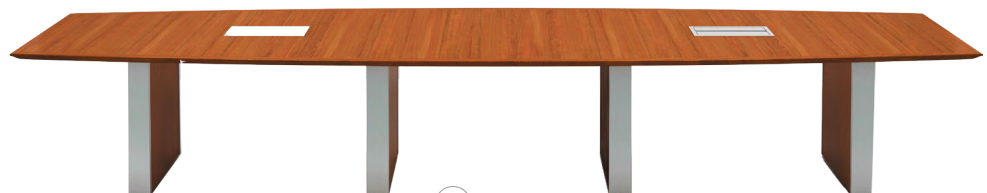

Opus is available five different top shapes: rectangle, bowed, boat shape, oval, or racetrack, with an unlimited selection of top materials. Its base panels, available with straight or curved silhouettes, can be constructed of veneer, laminate, metal, or perforated metal. Nevins always gives special attention to technology management, so it is no surprise that cords can be run through - and discreetly concealed within - the base.

“Large conference and board room tables demand a look of high integrity, quality, and smart functionality. We are thrilled that Opus meets these needs.”

Opus has multiple complimentary storage and presentation options, including buffet credenzas, storage credenzas, electronic storage credenzas, file credenzas, TV - video credenzas, and lecterns.

Available in multiple lengths, with the ability to interchange top and base features and materials, Opus will elegantly enhance the character of today's conferencing environment.
